SUMMER SBA SUMMARY

The weather during the summer period remained consistently below average highs for long periods. Only 8 days were greater than 1° above average highs and only one day exceeded 90°. Interestingly, daily lows hovered around average. Precipitation was close to average for the summer period. However, early dryness may have affected some early bearing fruit. No pattern developed which obviously influenced birds or birding.

A total of 175 species were reported by approximately a dozen observers. Few real rarities were reported. However, a nice variety of unusual herons were reported including Little Blue Heron, Snowy Egret, Tri-colored Heron, and Ibis (sp?). Both bitterns and Black-crowned Night Herons were reported at various locations. A Peregrine Falcon at Shiawassee NWR provided an unusual summer record. Bobwhites may be expanding northward again with recent mild winters, as they were reported for the first time at the Karn Plant and at Tawas Point (species # 295). Black terns were noted in encouraging numbers at multiple sites (although no breeding reports). Orchard Orioles nested at Tawas Point following their strong Spring showing.

The most interesting report of the summer remains unconfirmed as a pair of Whooping Cranes was reported in the Thumb by the media. The pair was said to originate from the 'non-migratory' flock in Florida. They were reported in a large private holding unavailable for viewing. In 1994 there was an unconfirmed sighting from this same general area.

On the negative side for the summer were the few reports of hawks and owls (only 1 kestrel reported). The common tern, whip-poor-will, and nighthawks were not observed in normal numbers.

Thanks for your efforts and reports – and good Fall birding. Thanks also to Chippewa Nature Center for funding mailing and copying.
